These guidelines outline the procedures of the University's Competitive Fellowship Leave program, which allows eligible faculty members the opportunity to take advantage of fellowship offers made through several prestigious and highly competitive national or international programs, e.g. Fulbright, Guggenheim, Mellon, Social Science Research Council, American Council of Learned Societies, without major financial detriment.

Five principles guide the Competitive Fellowship Leave procedures:

1. It is in the interest of the University that its faculty seek and accept competitive fellowship awards; hence, every effort should be made administratively to permit faculty members so honored to accept competitive awards.

2. Faculty members should ordinarily not be called upon to make major financial sacrifices in order to accept competitive fellowships; hence, every effort should be made to maintain faculty members' total income during the period of their fellowships at or near their scheduled salaries at Rutgers.

3. In order to maintain the integrity of the overall academic programs of the home departments of faculty members receiving competitive fellowship leaves, the campus provosts, and in New Brunswick the academic deans, acting in cooperation with chairs, deans or academic directors as appropriate, as well as the recipients of leaves, will allocate resources available to their campuses and units as a result of fellowship awards, with special attention to appropriate and adequate replacement of instructional responsibilities, including supervision of graduate students. It is the intent of this principle to provide maximum flexibility to campus provosts, and in New Brunswick the academic deans, in dealing with individual cases, but as a general principle, such arrangements will not involve the infusion of new salary dollars into the budgets of the home departments of faculty members receiving competitive fellowship leaves.

4. The length of a continuous leave of absence from the University for any and all reasons and on the basis of any and all combinations of leave programs is ordinarily limited to two successive academic years. It is expected that faculty members granted Competitive Fellowship Leaves will resume their duties at the University upon their return for not less than the period of their leaves.

5. The period of the leave from the University for Competitive Fellowship Leave will be counted toward the faculty member's eligibility for consideration for the Sabbatical Leave Program (formerly the Faculty Academic Service Leave Program) in subsequent years.

Accordingly, the following procedures have been devised:

A. Faculty members who are selected on the basis of national or international competition for a fellowship awarded by a recognized organization may request Competitive Fellowship Leave from the University. On the Camden and Newark campuses, a faculty member's request must be approved by the individual's department chair, dean or academic director, and Provost, who has final approval of CFL applications on those campuses. In New Brunswick, individual requests must be approved by the faculty member's department chair, academic director if appropriate, and academic dean. Academic deans have final approval of CFL applications in New Brunswick units. All requests will be subject to the University's fiscal situation in any given year.
B. The recipients of fellowship leaves will be placed on leave with salary in order to preserve their full benefits package. The fellowship stipend, or a portion thereof, must provide for instructional replacement, including actual fringe benefit costs, as determined by the provost or dean in consultation with the appropriate chair and, if necessary, dean or academic director. At the option of the provost or dean, some or all of the difference between the stipend and the instructional replacement costs or equivalent expenses may be made available as a research account to meet demonstrated expenses of the awardee in connection with the fellowship.

Example: Prof. Y receives a Guggenheim with a stipend of $30,000. It is determined that $24,000 is needed by the department to provide for a replacement and/or a department research resource. In this case, Prof. Y may retain, as determined by the provost or dean, a portion of the stipend for extraordinary research support of up to $6,000.

C. As a general principle, the minimum amount that the faculty member must make available from the stipend in order to provide for a replacement or equivalent educational resource will be equal to the value assigned to a part-time lecturer (coadjutant) line. That minimum value is currently $24,000.

D. Requests for Competitive Fellowship Leave for AY 2005-2006 are to be prepared using the Competitive Fellowship Leave Replacement (CFLR) Agreement and Authorization Form available in the Offices of the Provosts, Deans, and Academic Directors. Completed forms are to be forwarded through the appropriate officers (department chair, dean, or academic director) with the necessary endorsements, to be received by the provost, in Camden and Newark, or by the academic dean, in New Brunswick, as soon as possible, but no later than May 2, 2005.

Questions concerning the CFL program may be addressed to the following:

Camden Faculty: Loretta Kennealy, Assistant to the Provost (856-225-6095)
Newark Faculty: Janice Friedland, Executive Assistant to the Provost (973-353-5541)
New Brunswick Faculty: Academic Dean or University Librarian
University Controller: Tim Stein, Assistant University Controller (732-445-5052)
